Product Description

Intelligent Addressable Fire Alarm System with Fire Alarm Control Panel for Alarm System

Product features

1. Distributed intelligent linkage control system, non-polar signal two bus, convenient construction wiring, avoid wiring errors.
2. Fuzzy control theory is used to process data, which fundamentally eliminates missing and false positives and improves stability.
3. The address code of the terminal device in the loop can be mixed arbitrarily to improve the utilization rate of the loop address code.
4. The controller can automatically identify the address of the terminal device in the loop and prevent the cross-talk start of the fire extinguishing zone.
5. The industry's exclusive fire alarm and fault signal active upload technology, so that the controller response time is only 2 seconds.
6. You can use the USB flash drive to back up and restore data.
7. Compatible with 9000/9100 series fire detectors and modules, and can be networked with 9000/9100 series controllers, upload signals and accept reset commands issued by controllers.
8. Each fire extinguishing zone has an independent sound/light start/stop press key and hand/automatic switch. Automatic vent conditions and automatic vent delay time can be independently set.
9. Unique production process, in high temperature, high humidity, cold and high altitude environment can be used normally.
10. ESD electrostatic protection grade 12000V, stronger anti-interference ability, dedicated lightning protection technology, reduce or avoid equipment damage caused by lightning strikes.
